Home and Community Based Services Provider Professional Development Programs

ATD Professional Development Programs

- AHCCCS is using funding made available by the American Rescue Plan (ARP) Act of 2021 to increase access to home and community-based services (HCBS) and assist with workforce retention.
- As a result, AHCCCS has partnered with ATD to provide expert-led professional development programs at no cost to eligible Arizona Medicaid providers who deliver HCBS to enrolled AHCCCS members.
- The two ATD Professional Development Programs being offered for HCBS Providers serving AHCCCS members are the Integrated Talent Management Certificate Program and the Training and Facilitation Certificate Program.

+

The purpose of the AHCCCS and ATD partnership is to:

- Increase the effectiveness of provider trainers through ATD's globally recognized train-the-trainer certificate program.
- Help HR and Workforce Development Professionals create and support workforce development strategies using an integrated talent management approach to achieve measurable results for their organization.
- Support leadership through Executive Session Series to create awareness of workplace and workforce trends led by leading talent development experts.

The Association for Talent Development (ATD)

- ATD is a 501(c)3 non-profit membership organization and has been the global leader in talent development for over 80 years.
- Professional Development: Over 180,000 people trained via 35 professional development certificates; over 30,000 members

Training & Facilitation Certificate

AHCCCS and ATD have teamed up to offer you the premier train-the-trainer course.

This training certificate course covers the entire end-to-end training cycle, including planning and preparing a training event, managing the learning environment and engaging participants in the classroom, and following up post-event to continue to support learning. We'll cover the science behind learning as well—why and how learner needs and preferences, training techniques, classroom environment, and well-structured materials all affect learning outcomes. At the end of the course, you will have the opportunity to demonstrate your techniques in a skills training practice where you will receive feedback and guidance from peers and an ATD expert facilitator.

ATD's Training Certificate, the best-established train-the-trainer course in the talent development field, is now Training & Facilitation Certificate. Drawing upon ATD's extensive research and experience, this program will help you become a learner-centric facilitator who recognizes and can apply all of the skills of an effective trainer.
